Harvey Selected for National Youth Choir

Former pupil at South Marston Primary School, Harvey Cullis, 10, has been offered a place to become part of the world class National Youth Choirs of Great Britain (NYCGB).

The NYCGB upholds its mission of nurturing the exceptional musical talent of the young people of Great Britain by offering the very best musical provision from the country's greatest vocal tutors, collaborators and directors.

Harvey has been singing with the JTP Trust since he was five. Janice Thompson, Director of the JTP Trust said "It is a wonderful achievement for Harvey and a marvellous opportunity. I'm sure, he'll love being part of such a talented choir and all the experiences it brings with it."

The JTP Trust was set-up in Swindon in 2004. It aims to promote, improve, develop and widen public education and appreciation of vocal music through classes, workshops and presentation of recitals and concerts.
